INTRODUCTION

The ability to read and write sets human beings apart from all other creatures! These abilities begin to develop very early in life as children learn the early literacy skills needed for reading and writing: Vocabulary, Narrative Skills, Letter Knowledge, Print Awareness, Phonological Awareness and Print Motivation.* The State Library of Louisiana's Nursery Rhyme Name Songs project provides tools for adults to use with children ages 3 – 5 to help foster these skills with an emphasis on Letter Knowledge.

A brief review of early literacy skill development clarifies the rationale for Nursery Rhyme Name Songs. Babies first learn the sounds of language and gradually learn that these sounds combine to make words. Toddlers begin to speak short sentences using the words they hear. Preschoolers make major early literacy strides when they come to understand that the spoken word can be captured with written symbols called the alphabet. This understanding often occurs as preschoolers learn to spell their own names. Songs that spell out children's names help children remember the correct sequence of letters. This project provides such songs for names with 2 – 15 letters.

Nursery Rhyme Name Songs adapts the lyrics of 24 traditional nursery rhyme and children's songs to help preschoolers develop Letter Knowledge as they:

- Begin to recognize their own names in print
- Begin to spell their names orally
- Begin to write their names

The project provides song sheets and a companion music CD that demonstrates how to sing each name song. The song sheets and the music CD also include lyrics for the traditional songs used in the project so that children can learn new rhyming words (Phonological Awareness.)

Illustrated printable mini books featuring the traditional songs are available for children to color and keep. The simple illustrations help children understand the meaning of the words used in the traditional songs (Vocabulary.) When reading a mini book with a child, adults can point to the words on the page to show that print works from left to right (Print Awareness.) Adults can also encourage children to tell the story in each mini book in their own words (Narrative Skills.) And finally, the song sheets, the CD, and the mini books can be fun to use with children! Children enjoy singing the name songs of their siblings and friends, learning the traditional songs, and coloring the mini books (Print Motivation.)

A survey of 292 pilot participants provided ideas for using Nursery Rhyme Name Songs in public libraries, early childhood classrooms, and homes. The project also includes: Early literacy writing activities; a bibliography of storybooks about names; program suggestions; a list of songs about names; a suggested training workshop description, plan and evaluation; results of the pilot survey; and testimonials.

HOW TO DO THIS PROJECT

1. Count the number of letters in the child's name.
2. Choose a song sheet with the same number of letters; if there are two songs, pick one.
3. Start the CD of songs on the traditional song selected for the child's name.
4. Learn to sing the traditional song yourself by listening to it on the CD and singing the words on the left side of the song sheet.
5. Sing the traditional song to the child; invite the child to sing along.
6. On the right side of the song sheet, write the letters of the child's name in the blank spaces using a capital letter (uppercase) for the first letter only and lowercase letters for the rest of the name.
7. Learn to sing the child's name song yourself by starting the CD on the name song, singing the words, and singing the letters for the "hums" sung on the CD.
8. Sing the name song several times to the child until it becomes familiar; invite the child to sing along.
9. Write the child's name in big print; use a capital letter (uppercase) for the first letter only and lowercase letters for the rest of the name.
10. Sing the name song to the child, pointing to each letter as you sing the letter names so the child understands that each printed letter has its own name.
11. Guide the child's finger to point to each letter as you sing again slowly.
12. Encourage the child to begin writing their name using a capital letter (uppercase) for the first letter only and lowercase letters for the rest of the name.

TIPS FOR SUCCESS

Praise children often and have fun with the songs!

1. Think about songs you remember from your own childhood that you can change to help a child learn their name using the kinds of words on the name song sheets.
2. Songs on the CD are recorded slowly and simply to make learning the tunes and the words easier. Feel free to “jazz up” the songs with your own style and rhythm.
3. Remember to guide children to write a capital letter (uppercase) only for the first letter in their names and to use lowercase letters for the rest of their names.
4. When teaching children the traditional songs, act them out, do hand motions, or play games that go with the songs.
5. For long names, encourage children to learn just one or two letters at a time.
6. For compound names, consider using a name song that has one more letter
7. space than letters in the child’s name so you can teach the child to see and say the “space” between the two words in the name.
7. For names that are initials, consider using a 4-letter name song so you can teach the child to see, say, and write the periods after each initial.
8. Encourage children to color the mini book that corresponds to their name songs.
9. Remember that children learn at different rates.
10. Repeating the songs at different times during the day will help children learn.

IDEAS FOR USE IN PUBLIC LIBRARIES

Give to Patrons

- At the children's room desk
- At the check-out desk
- After programs
- Near a bulletin board display about the project

Train Adults

- Head Start, day care, preschool staff
- Home school groups
- Parent / caregiver groups
- Community, municipal and church groups

Sing with Children

- Annual program for ages 3 - 5
- Preschool storytime
- Group tours
- Small informal groups

IDEAS FOR USE IN CLASSROOMS

Large Groups

- During morning circle time or storytime
- First sing your own name song for children.
- Each day, feature a different child's name.
- Write the child's name on the board and guide the child in pointing to the letters as you teach the name song to the group.
- Give the child a pretend microphone to encourage the child to lead the group singing.

Small Groups

- During center time
- Before and after class

Transitions

- Choose a leader of the day.
- Hum the leader's song to signal transitions.
- Encourage the whole group to sing the leader's songs during transitions.

Individual Time

Work with individual children during center time.

IDEAS FOR USE IN HOMES

Getting Dressed

- Tape the child's song sheet to a closet door.
- Sing with the child while helping them get dressed.
- Praise the child's singing often.

Play

- Sing while playing with a child.
- Singing the songs over and over helps a child learn.

Bathtime

- Sing as you help a child bathe.
- Sing as you help a child dry off and get dressed for bed.

Bedtime

- Sing as part of a bedtime routine
- Singing to a child right before bedtime helps the child relax.

EARLY LITERACY WRITING ACTIVITIES

Rubbings

Why do rubbings?

- Helps strengthen the muscles in little children's fingers and hands that are used when holding a pen or pencil. Weak hand muscles make it hard for children to write later.
- Shows young children that we can "capture" shapes on paper and show these shapes to others later.
- Children come to understand that they themselves can create representations of objects! This understanding is a precursor of Alphabet Knowledge, the idea that letters represent sounds and can be written down for others to read later.
- Rubbings give satisfaction to children whose scribbling skills are stronger than their drawing skills.

What do I need?

- Flat objects with raised ridges or texture (leaves, coins, lace, etc.)
- White paper (not construction paper)
- Crayons broken in half so children have to use their fingers in a "pincer" grasp instead of holding the crayon with their whole hand

How do I do it?

- Place the flat object on a table or hard surface
 - Place the paper over the object
 - Direct children to color the area of paper over the flat object
 - See the shape of the object on the paper!

Name Puzzles

Why do name puzzles?

- They help children become familiar with the shapes and names of the letters
- They help children learn the right sequence of the letters that spell their names

What do I need?

- One piece of paper to write a child's name on so they can see the sequence of letters
- Small cards (from paper or cardboard), one for each letter in a child's name
- A pen or marker

How do I do it?

- Write the child's name on the paper. Use a capital letter for the first letter only and lowercase (small) letters for all the rest.
 - Write the letters of the child's name on the cards, one letter on each card. Use a capital letter for the first letter only and lowercase (small) letters for all the rest.
 - Ask the child to arrange the cards in the same sequence as the name written on the paper.

Dot-to-Dot Name Writing

Why do it?

- Helps children learn the shapes and names of the letters in their names.
- Helps children learn the sequence of the letters in their names.
- Gives children practice writing their names as they trace over the dotted letters.
- Helps strengthen the muscles in little children's hands that are used when holding a pen or pencil. Weak hand muscles make it hard for children to write later.

What do I need?

- Dot-to-Dot alphabet stamps (or the willingness to write the child's name letters in dots)
- Stamp pad (or a pen or marker to write the letters in dots)
- Piece of paper
- Broken crayon for child to trace over the dots

How do I do it?

- Stamp the child's name on paper or make letter shapes as a series of dots. Use a capital letter for the first letter only and lowercase (small) letters for all the rest.
 - Make photocopies of the dotted name so the child can practice many times.
 - Direct the child to trace the letters from dot to dot, starting each letter at the top and writing downward.

Dot Sticker Name Sign

Why do it?

- Helps children learn the shapes and names of the letters in their names.
- Helps children learn the sequence of the letters in their names.

- Helps strengthen the muscles in little children's hands that are used when holding a pen or pencil. Weak hand muscles make it hard for children to write later.
- Makes a colorful name sign for the child to put someplace special such as a bedroom wall or door.

What do I need?

- Piece of paper
- Pen or pencil
- Adhesive dots – use bigger dots $\frac{1}{2}$ " – $\frac{3}{4}$ " for younger children and smaller dots $\frac{1}{4}$ " – $\frac{1}{2}$ " for older children

How do I do it?

- Write the child's name on a piece of paper in letters large enough for them to place dots.
- Direct the child to peel off stickers and stick them on the letters one after another so that all the writing is covered up with the dots.
- Do not help the child peel off the stickers. Each time they do it themselves, they are using the "pincer" grasp and are strengthening the muscles in their hands and fingers that will be needed to hold a pen or pencil later.

NAME STORYBOOKS

Activities for read aloud programs:

- Provide nametags for children and adults. Encourage young children to spell their name for you and print their name using a capital letter for the first name and lowercase letters for all the other letters. Say the name of each letter as you write it. Allow adults and older children to write their own names.
- At the end of the program, provide materials for a craft related to names. Ask the children to stick or glue their nametag on their craft project and make a display of all the projects.
- Encourage parents and caregivers to tell children why they were given their particular names.
- Encourage parents and caregivers to look up the meaning of their child's name using Behind the Name.

FOR AGES 3 - 5

A My Name is Alice by Jane Bayer

The well-known jump rope ditty which is built on letters of the alphabet is illustrated with animals from all over the world. Help children think of similar chants for their own names!

Catalina Magdalena Hoopensteiner Wallendiner Hogan Logan Bogan Was Her Name by Tedd Arnold

Presents the words--and varying forms of the name--of a classic camp song that dates at least from the 1940s. She had two holes on the bottom of her nose--one for her fingers, and one for her toes! Though she has two arms that drag along the ground, two feet bigger than a bathroom mat, and just two teeth in her mouth, life for Catalina is full and fun!

Chrysanthemum by Kevin Henkes (also available as a big book , as a DVD and in other formats.)

Chrysanthemum thinks her name is absolutely perfect, until her first day of school. "You're named after a flower!" teases Victoria. "Let's smell her," says Jo. Chrysanthemum wilts. What will it take to make her blossom again?

Edmund for Short: A Tale from China Plate Farm by Chris Jackson

When Edmund the pig discovers that the cows on China Plate Farm all have grand names based on their body markings, he decides to mark himself so he can have a grand name of his own, but nobody notices, as a new calf is being born on the farm.

Eleanor, Ellatony, Ellencake, and Me by Cathy Rubin

Various members of Eleanor's family give her different nicknames, but she finally tells them that she has decided on one of her own. Encourage children to talk about their own nicknames!

From Anne to Zach by Mary Jane Martin

In this rhyming alphabet book, the letter on each page features one short sentence introducing a child's name.

Let's Call Him Lau-Wiliwili-Humuhumu-Nukunuku-Nukunuku-Apua'a-Oi'Oi by Tim Myers and Daryl Arakaki

When two proud fish of different species marry and have a fish child, an argument erupts over what to name the child.

Matthew A. B. C. by Peter Catalanotto

Mrs. Tuttle, a kindergarten teacher, has 25 boys in her class, all named Matthew. She adds a letter of the alphabet to each of their names based on unusual special qualities about each boy. The ideas are funny and zany, especially when one more boy named Matthew is added to the class.

The Name Quilt by Phyllis Root

One of Sadie's favorite things to do when she visits her grandmother is to hear stories about the family members whose names are on a special quilt that Grandma had made, so Sadie is very sad when the quilt is blown away in a storm.

The Name of the Tree: A Bantu Folktale by Celia Barker Lottridge

When a drought spreads through the land of the short grass, the animals set out across the great plain to find food. Their only hope for survival is a tree with a variety of colorful fruit. The problem is its branches are too high. To reach them, the wise old turtle says, one must know the name of the tree, something to which only King Lion is privy. In this Bantu folktale retold by Celia Barker Lottridge, the hero is not the most cunning or the strongest but the one that tries the hardest.

Naming the Cat by Laurence P. Pringle

A family considers many possibilities before coming up with a name that is just right for the cat that has come to live with them.

A Porcupine Named Fluffy by Helen Lester

Fluffy's name is a source of sorrow to the sharp-quilled youngster, until he meets and befriends a rhinoceros named—Hippo! Introduce the story by showing children photos of fluffy things (clouds, cotton, cotton candy) a porcupine, a hippo and a rhinoceros.

FOR AGES 6 ON UP

Andy: That's My Name by Tomie dePaola

Andy's friends construct different words from his name: "an" words, "and" words, and "andy" words.

Ashok by Any Other Name by Sandra S. Yamate

Ashok is an Indian American boy who wishes he had a less ethnic, more "American" name. His experiments with new names create a variety of mishaps until he finally discovers just the right name for himself. A story for every immigrant or child of immigrants who struggles to be an American.

Call Me Little Echo Hawk by Terry EchoHawk

Every child has a name, and the story of Echo Hawk will motivate children everywhere to seek out stories about their own names. In "Call Me Little Echo Hawk," children will also learn to be proud of their heritage and their ancestors.

Christopher Changes His Name by Itah Sadu

Christopher Mulamba is tired of being one of three boys with the same first name in his class, so he picks out a series of new names honoring a variety of black heroes, from the star of his aunt's Trinidadian folktales to scientist Elijah McCoy to Michael Jordan, but in the process his own name gets lost.

The First Thing My Mama Told Me by Susan Marie Swanson

A young girl celebrates the name that was chosen just for her. "When I was born, the first thing my mama told me was my name". Lucy remembers lots of things about her name. Seven-year-old Lucy describes special memories about her name from each of her birthdays.

Hope by Isabell Monk

Isabell Monk's depiction of how a girl learns about her rich biracial heritage will help all children see themselves with pride and self-respect.

I Am Renè, the Boy by Rene Colato Lainez

When Renè learns that in the United States his name is also a girl's name, he does some research and relates the name's meaning and letters to his homeland of El Salvador and the things that make him special.

Ivan to Make You Laugh: Jokes about Novel, Nifty, and Notorious Names by Sam Schultz

Presents a variety of jokes about people's names.

Josephina Hates Her Name by Diana Engel

After Grandma explains that she named Josephina after her talented, daring older sister, Josephina starts to appreciate her unusual name.

A Lion Named Shirley Williamson by Bernard Waber

The lions at the zoo are jealous of the new lioness because of her fancy name and because of the special treatment she receives from the zookeeper.

Mommy Doesn't Know My Name by Suzanne Williams

This loving and humorous story depicts frustrated Hannah, who tries to get her mother to call her by her real name rather than the pet names she uses.

My Name Is Yoon by Helen Recorvits

Disliking her name as written in English, Korean-born Yoon, or “shining wisdom,” refers to herself as “cat,” “bird,” and “cupcake,” as a way to feel more comfortable in her new school and new country.

Name Games: Using Children's Names to Link Oral Language and Print by Traci Ferguson Geiser

This teacher resource is rich in phonics and oral language practice. Each of the ten complete lesson cycles culminates in a unique bookmaking activity. Loaded with reproducibles, Name Games keeps teacher preparation time to a minimum.

The Name Jar by Yangsook Choi

Being the new kid in school is hard enough, but what about when nobody can pronounce your name? Having just moved from Korea, Unhei is anxious that American kids will like her. So instead of introducing herself on the first day of school, she tells the class that she will choose a name by the following week. Her new classmates are fascinated by this no-name girl and decide to help out by filling a glass jar with names for her to pick from.

Nutty Names: A Book of Name Jokes by Mark Ziegler

The only thing kids think is funnier than a good joke is... more good jokes! These supercharged joke books contain more jokes than ever. Get ready to laugh!

The Other Emily by Gibbs Davis

Emily believes her name belongs to her alone, but on the first day of school she discovers she is not the only Emily in the world.

Rumpelstiltskin by Paul O. Zelinsky

A strange little man helps the miller's daughter spin straw into gold. In this highly inventive and splendid rendering of a favorite Grimm fairy tale, award-winning storyteller and illustrator Paul O. Zelinsky evokes a world of Medieval magic.

Santa's Book of Names by David McPhail

A young boy who has trouble reading helps Santa with his yearly rounds and receives a special Christmas present.

Three Names of Me by Mary Cummings

A girl adopted from China explains that her three names--one her birth mother whispered in her ear, one the babysitters at her orphanage called her, and one her American parents gave her--are each an important part of who she is. Includes scrapbooking ideas for other girls adopted from China.

Tikki Tikki Tembo by Arlene Mosel

This story why the Chinese no longer honor their firstborn with an unusually long name such as "Tikki tikki tembo-no sa rembo- chari bari ruchi-pip peri pembo!" This re-creation of an ancient Chinese folktale has hooked legions of children, teachers, and parents, who return, generation after generation, to learn about the danger of having such an honorable name, especially when one falls into a well.

Music: Play Wee Sing Children’s Songs and Fingerplays as group enters area.

Nametags: Provide nametags for each child. As children come in, ask them their names. Ask them if they can spell it for you. If they can’t spell their own name, ask the adult with them to spell it. Repeat each letter as you write their name on the nametag. Write their name with a capital letter (uppercase) for the first letter only and use small letters (lowercase) for all the other letters.

Story Program

Welcome Song or Rhyme: (Guide children to do an action rhyme or song used regularly.)

Segue: There is something that everybody has but you can't touch it, can't taste it, can't smell it, but you CAN hear it, and you CAN see it. What is it? (Let group guess for a while.)

I'll tell you the answer. It's OUR NAMES! Everybody has a name! You can HEAR it when someone talks to you. And you can SEE it on your nametag.

Let's sing a song about names!

Song: Name, Name, What Is Your Name? (To the tune of: Skip to My Lou)

Name, Name, what is your name?
Name, Name, what is your name?
Name, Name, what is your name?
What is your name, my darlin'?

My name is _____. How about you?
My name is _____. How about you?
My name is _____. How about you?
What is your name, my darlin'?

His (or her) name is _____. How do you do? (Shake hands with child.)
His (or her) name is _____. How do you do? (Shake hands with child.)
His (or her) name is _____. How do you do? (Shake hands with child.)
How do you do, my darlin'?

Name, Name, what is your name?
Name, Name, what is your name?
Name, Name, what is your name?
What is your name, my darlin'?

Segue: Now let's listen to a story about someone whose name was a problem.

Read Aloud: (Select one of the titles from the "Name Storybooks Bibliography" p. 19 in this manual and read it aloud.)

Seque: Now let's play a name game! Listen to what I say. Do what I do.

Game: Everyone Who Has a Name

Everyone who has a name, stand up.
 Everyone who has a name, sit down.
 Everyone who has a name, stand up.
 Everyone who has a name, turn around.

Everyone who has a name, stretch up high.
 Everyone who has a name, stretch down low.
 Everyone who has a name, roll your hands fast.
 Everyone who has a name, roll your hands slow.

Everyone who has a name, turn around.
 Everyone who has a name, sit back down.

Seque: Now let's listen to a song that has a funny name in it and some actions for us to do. Listen to song. Watch what I do. Do what I do.

Song with Actions: "Anna Banana" from Johnette Downing's Silly Sing Along CD

Seque: Listen to what I say. Do what I do.

Game: Everyone Who Has a Name (to introduce Nursery Rhyme Name Songs)

Everyone who has a name, turn around.
 Everyone who has a name, sit back down.
 Everyone who has a name, deep breath in.
 Everyone who has a name, deep breath out.
 Everyone who has a name has a song.
 A song to sing to spell your name all day long.

Introduce Nursery Rhyme Name Songs: When we help children learn to spell their names, we help them get ready for reading. We'd like to show you a way to help your child learn to spell their own name by teaching them a song. (Demonstrate how the project works with an enlarged sample song sheet. Show how to write the child's letters on the song sheet, cue up the CD, listen to the song while following along on the song sheet. Give ideas for when adults can sing to children during the day using enlarged instructions.)

Segue: Besides learning the letters in names, it's fun to make sounds that rhyme with names. Here's a song like that!

Song with Elephant Prop: Willouby Wallaby Woo

Willouby wallaby wee, an elephant sat on me.
Willouby wallaby woo, an elephant sat on you.

(Repeat song using children's names for last word and rhyming sounds for third word. Place a stuffed elephant on the head of the child you're singing about.)

EXAMPLES: Willouby wallaby wustin, an elephant sat on Justin.
 Willouby wallaby wanya, an elephant sat on Tanya.

Segue: Later on, see if you can think up rhyming sounds for the names of people you know. But now, everyone who has a name, look, look, look. Everyone who has a name, time for a book! You stay sitting down. I'll get the book.

Read Aloud with Visuals: (Choose a title from the "Name Storybooks" bibliography provided. Prepare large visual aids to use while telling or reading story. A good example of such a story is Catalina Magdalena Hoopensteiner Wallendiner Hogan Logan Bogan Was Her Name by Tedd Arnold.)

Segue: Today we heard some name stories, played a couple of name games, and now you have a special song that will help you learn to spell your name. Let's do one last thing all together.

Closing Song or Rhyme: (Guide children to do an action rhyme or song used regularly.)

His (or her) name is _____. How do you do? (Shake hands with child.)

How do you do, my darlin'?

Name, Name, what is your name?

Name, Name, what is your name?

Name, Name, what is your name?

What is your name, my darlin'?

B-i-n-g-o

(Make big flannel or magnetic board letters. Use an uppercase B and lowercase for all the other letters. Point to each letter as you sing the song.)

There was a farmer had a dog and Bingo was his name-o.

B - i - n - g - o

B - i - n - g - o

B - i - n - g - o

And Bingo was his name-o.

(Repeat song, remove the "o" and add a clap in its place. Repeat until all letters are removed and replaced by claps.)

Willoughby Wallaby Woo

Willouby wallaby wee, an elephant sat on me.

Willouby wallaby woo, an elephant sat on you.

WORKSHOP DESCRIPTION: NURSERY RHYME NAME SONGS

Summary: This presentation demonstrates tools and strategies for developing the 6 early literacy skills, particularly those that help children ages 3-5 learn to spell their names. The key name-spelling strategy uses songs that spell out children's names. Song sheets featuring new lyrics for traditional nursery rhymes include blank spaces for the letters in children's names. Project materials include song sheets with lyrics to traditional nursery rhymes and name songs, a CD of both types of songs, mini printable nursery rhyme books, and instructions for using the project in classrooms, homes, and public libraries.

Length of program: 90 minutes – 2 hours

Recommended audience: Adults who work with children ages 3-5 including public library staff, early care and education staff, parents, and caregivers

Maximum # of attendees recommended: 100

Pre-requisites: None

Materials/equipment needed: Copies of the 2 CD's for participants (or hard copies of documents on CD #1 and a CD copy of CD #2 Songs), screen, multi-media projector, laptop computer, CD player, A-V cart, table for presenter, dry erase board and easel, dry erase markers, 6 flip chart pads and 6 easels, 2" x 2" post-it notes and pencils for participants, samples of name-related crafts, Wee Sing musical recordings about names and/or featuring rhymes used in project; lavalier or headset microphone and PA system, chairs only for participant seating.

Learning objectives: Participants will be able to:

- Identify the appropriate song to use with a child's name
- Sing the name songs themselves
- Demonstrate techniques for teaching a child the traditional nursery rhymes and their name song
- Employ strategies for encouraging a child to begin writing their names

Expected Outcome: Children will be able to:

- Recite and/or sing traditional nursery rhymes
- Recognize their names in print
- Identify the letters in their own names
- Recite the series of letters in their names correctly
- Spell their names orally
- Begin writing their names

Set-Up :

- Before participants begin arriving
- Test CD player and any other equipment
- Organize all registration materials
- Have nametags and handouts ready
- Give to host the notes that introduce you and project
- Play a CD of songs about names as participants arrive

Welcome:

- Host
 - Welcomes group
 - House-keeping notes
 - Introduces you using the printed information you provided
- Presenter
 - Thank the host and the participants
 - Add any introductory remarks
 - Review contents of handouts

Introduce Topic:

- There is a gift that each of us receives at birth that we keep for life. Know what it is? Our names.
- Babies can recognize the sound of their own names before they can speak.
- Toddlers can say their own names; they also learn that they can make marks with crayons and markers when they scribble.
- Preschoolers often make the extremely important connection between the spoken word and the printed word when they learn to spell their names.
 - First they learn to recognize their names in print, often starting with recognizing the first letter in their name
 - Then they begin to learn the names of the letters

- They learn the proper sequence for these letters
- Singing a song that spells out their names helps them remember the letter sequence
- And finally, they learn to write their names. At first, the letter-like forms may not look like a name but this type of writing is a natural part of the learning process. Eventually, preschoolers learn to write standard letter forms as their hands and fingers become stronger.

Informal Needs Assessment of Participants: Raise your hand if you:

- Remember who taught you to spell your name (invite sharing but if no one wants to do so, tell how you learned to spell your name or ask everyone to spell their first name out loud at the same time)
- Have you ever had to help children learn to spell their names?
- Is this something you still do now (invite sharing of how they do it, but if no one wants to do so, move on)
- Who do you think teaches most children how to spell their names?
- Do you have any contact with them?

Segue: Today you'll learn how to use Nursery Rhyme Name Songs, an original project created by the State Library of Louisiana that helps children ages 3 – 5 learn to spell their names. We'll see why name spelling is important, review the 6 early literacy skills and learn how to use the Nursery Rhyme Name Songs project with children to foster these skills. But first, let's read a story that helps us realize how important names are to children.

Read Aloud a Book about Names: (see "Name Storybooks" p. 19 – 23 in this manual)

Segue: Reading a story about names is a great way to introduce the Nursery Rhyme Name Songs project to children as well as to their teachers and parents. There's a list of other good books about names in your handouts. We'll review them later today.

There's also many dynamic songs about names or with silly names that children enjoy. Let's sing one of them now. You have a list of them in your handouts.

Sing a song about names: (see "Songs about Names" p. 33 – 35 in this manual)

- If the song about names is not familiar to the group:
 - "Listen to me" and you sing the song by yourself.
 - "Now I'll sing a line and you sing that same line" and have the audience echo you line by line.
 - "Now let's sing the song together" and sing it several times until they are familiar with it.

Once the group has become familiar with the song, tell them to find the handout with the words to the song and sing the song with them again while they read the words.

- If there are motions to the song, follow these steps:
 - "Listen to me" and you sing the song by yourself.
 - "Now watch what I do while I sing this song" and demonstrate the motions as you sing.
 - "Now do as I do while I sing the song again" and sing the song again by yourself as participants imitate your actions; now the participants will have heard the song 3 times and seen the action twice.
 - "Now I'll sing a line and you sing that same line and we'll do the motions, too" and have the audience echo you line by line, doing the motions for each line.
 - "Now let's sing the song together" and sing it several times until they are familiar with it.

Segue: Books and songs about names help focus children's attention on the importance of names. We can channel this focus to help children make the connection between the sound of their name and the way it looks in print. This connection is vital to being ready to learn to read.

Also, no matter where children live or go to school, eventually, they must learn to spell both their first name and their last name. It's the most basic literacy skill a person can have. That's why it's a state educational requirement for young children.

Review State Educational Requirements:

- Louisiana Department of Education
 - Prekindergarten English Language Arts Grade Level Expectations stipulate that students must be able to:
 - Identify their own first name in print
 - Identify at least eight uppercase or lowercase letters, focusing on those in the student's name
 - Kindergarten English Language Arts Grade Level Expectations stipulate that students must be able to:
 - Distinguish and name all uppercase and lowercase letters
 - Identify own first and last name
 - Print all uppercase and lowercase letters
 - Identify and use uppercase letters at the beginning of their own first and last names
- Louisiana Department of Social Services
 - Louisiana's Early Learning Guidelines and Program Standards: Birth through Three for Language and Literacy, p. 99 - 100, stipulate that "caregivers will give 3-year old children opportunities to:"
 - Begin to recognize their own name
 - Begin to know that print has meaning
 - Draw or write using pencils, crayons, chalk, markers, etc.
 - Initiate writing through sign-in sheets, journals, name cards, etc.
 - Louisiana Standards for Programs Serving Four-Year-Old Children for Language and Literacy Development, p. 73-74, stipulate that "educational experiences will assure that preschool children will:"
 - Recognize and begin writing their own name

- Use scribble writing and letter-like forms, especially those in their own names

Play a Game about Names: (see “Name Activities and Crafts” p. 36 - 37 in this manual)

Segue: To children ages 3-5,, the letters of the alphabet may look as unusual as this writing: (Show a sample of writing from another culture that looks very different from the English alphabet such as “Rosetta Stone” p. 38 – 41 in this manual.)

- Find this writing sample in your handouts.

Review the 6 Early Literacy Skills:

- Ask the group to think about 2 things that someone needs to know in order to be able to read this writing.
- Ask the group to write the 2 ideas on 2 separate post-it notes.
- Ask the group to give you their post-it notes.
- Read aloud the post-it note responses, grouping them into the 6 early literacy skills on a dry erase board with 6 squares drawn on it.
- Follow up with a brief overview of the 6 early literacy skills using the information on the “Training Workshop Early Literacy Signs” p. 54 – 60 in this manual. For more information about early literacy, see the State Library of Louisiana’s web pages “Early Literacy: What Is It and Why Is It Important?” at http://www.state.lib.la.us/la_dyn_templ.cfm?doc_id=759

Play a Game about Names: (see “Name Activities and Crafts” p. 36 – 38 in this manual)

Segue: One of the best ways to learn something new is through play. The Nursery Rhyme Name Songs project feels like a game to children.

Nursery Rhyme Name Songs:

- Demonstrate how to sing the songs on their sample song sheet.
- Provide background information
 - Original project created by the State Library of Louisiana
 - Helps children learn to spell their names and to begin writing them, which is part of Alphabet Knowledge
 - Also fosters the other early literacy skills
 - Uses 24 traditional nursery rhymes and children's songs
 - Includes song sheets, a CD of all the songs used, and printable mini books of the traditional songs; all these materials are in your handouts
 - Helps children make the connection between the spoken word and the printed word
 - 2004 – 2006: Presented to over 800 staff in libraries, day care, preschool, Head Start program, and home instruction programs during 2004 – 2006
 - 2006: Piloted with a CD in 292 programs and homes
 - 2007: Survey of pilot participants gave feedback on project's usefulness
 - 2007: Prototype designed to be used in libraries, classrooms, and homes
- Explain and demonstrate "How to Do This Project" handout from this manual p. 11.
- Review the "Tips for Success" using handout from this manual p.12.
- Demonstrate all the name songs, projecting them onto the dry erase board and writing in the letters of names the participants provide (see CD #1 Song Sheets folder; project the PDF "ALL Song Sheets")
- Ask participants to think of moments during their daily routines when they can teach a child or a group of children a name song.
- Review participants' ideas for these teaching moments.
 - If group is small, consider having them stand in a circle and take turns throwing a ball to each other; whoever catches the ball, shares an idea.
 - If group is large, consider having them discuss their ideas in small groups for a few minutes then having a speaker from each small group share ideas with the whole group

- Review “Name Storybooks” using handout from this manual p.19 - 23 and booktalk your favorites.
- Review of “Songs about Names” using handout from this manual p. 33 – 35.
- Show samples of the “Early Literacy Writing Activities” using handout from this manual p.16 – 18.
- Provide a round robin opportunity for participants to think of ideas for how the Nursery Rhyme Name Songs project helps develop the 6 early literacy skills.
 - Post 6 flip chart pages on the wall, one for each of the 6 early literacy skills (see “Training Workshop Early Literacy Signs” in this manual p. 54 - 60.)
 - In small groups, participants move from one flip chart page to the next, writing their ideas on the pages.
 - Review participants’ ideas for how the NRNS helps develop early literacy skills
- Review “How to Duplicate this Project” using handout from this manual p. 62.

Evaluation: Provide an opportunity for participants to evaluate the workshop (see “Evaluation” in this manual p. 52 – 53.)

Closing Remarks: We hope that you will use this project with children and share it with others. The project can be duplicated for non-commercial use for anyone who would like the opportunity to help children learn to spell their names. As the Nursery Rhyme Name Songs project is shared with others, we help children make that vital connection between the spoken word and the printed word. And we do it with their very first gift, their names. Thank you.

SURVEY RESULTS SUMMARY

During 2006, the Nursery Rhyme Name Songs project was piloted with song sheets and a CD of the name songs in 292 sites (public libraries, early care and education programs, and homes.) In 2007, a survey evaluating the use and effectiveness of the project was distributed to pilot participants. Survey results are summarized below:

- 22% pilot participants responded.
- 30% of respondents were preschool teachers and 21% were public library staff.
- Over 60% of the children with whom the project was used were ages 3 – 5.
- The majority of respondents worked with groups of 15 – 20 children daily.
- Most of the children were eligible for free or reduced lunch.
- 50.8% of respondents used the project and reported the following:
 - The majority of respondents recommended starting the project in September or October.
 - They sang one or more name songs with the whole group each week.
 - Singing a child’s song repeatedly helped children learn the songs.
 - The project helped children learn to spell their names as follows:
 - “All or most of the children” – 18.5% respondents
 - “75% of children” – 3.1% respondents
 - “50% of children” – 13.8% respondents
 - Children also learned to spell other children’s names.
 - Most children were also taught the traditional song on which their name song was based.
 - Parents and guardians were given children’s name song sheets.
 - The staff, children and parents/caregivers easily learned the name songs.
 - Project was used during library storytimes and in classrooms primarily during center times, morning circle time, and in small group time.
 - The respondents would recommend the project to others.
- Reasons given for not using the project included:
 - Children could already spell their names.
 - School system’s new curriculum requirements took priority time.
 - Project seemed to require too much time to use with individual children.
 - Most respondents did not state a specific reason at all.

HOW TO DUPLICATE THE NURSERY RHYME NAME SONGS PROJECT

To train other adults to use the project, you need:

- Copies of CD #1 in CD format
- Copies CD #2 in CD format
- Hard copies of handouts listed on “Training Workshop Agenda” in this manual

To implement the project with children, you need:

- Hard copies of the “Song Sheets” on CD #1; instructions for using the project are included
- Hard copies of the “Mini Books” on CD #1
- Copies of “CD #2 Songs” in CD format

To make copies of the project materials you have 4 options:

1. In-house CD duplication of CD #1, CD #2 and of the CD labels for each CD*
2. In-house hard copy duplication of documents on CD #1 and in-house CD duplication of CD #2 ; will also need copies of the CD #2 label*
3. Purchase copies of both CD’s from Accupress in Ville Platte, LA
Phone: 1-800-542-8283 Website: www.accupress.com
4. In-house hard copy duplication of documents on CD #1 and purchase copies of the CD #2 from Accupress in Ville Platte, LA
Phone: 1-800-542-8283 Website: www.accupress.com

* CD labels are designed to be used with the following adhesive CD labels: Avery 5697 or 5931 or 8931 or Neato 863100; label designs are available in color, grayscale or lineart.

DIRECTIONS FOR FOLDING MINI BOOKS

1. Print out the page for one of the rhymes. Find the word "Name" above the title of the rhyme.
2. Turn the page so that the picture with the word "Name" is the bottom right-hand picture on the page. This will be the cover of the book.
3. Flip the page over. Now the picture with the word "Name" should be face down in the bottom left-hand corner image.
4. With images face down, fold down the top of the page to the bottom of the page.
5. You should be looking at the inside of the book, not the picture with the word "Name."
6. Now fold from left to right. You should see the picture with the word "Name" which is the cover of the book.
7. Write the child's name on the line next to the word "Name." Start with a capital letter and use lowercase letters for the rest of the name. This will help the child learn to recognize their name in print.
8. Have fun reading the book to the child over and over!

TIPS FOR SHARING A BOOK WITH A CHILD

1. Tell a child about the pictures in a book using your own words. Point to the pictures as you describe them.
2. When you read the book to a child, point to the words as you read. This helps the child to know that you are saying the words on the page and not just talking about the pictures.
3. After a child has become familiar with the rhyme, when you read it, stop before the last word on the page and let the child say the last word.
4. Encourage the child to tell YOU about the pictures. This will help the child to learn new words.
 - a. Pick out something in the picture that you want the child to notice.
 - b. Ask the child, "Where's the _____?" and wait for the child to point to it.

If the child points correctly:

- Say, "Yes! That's the _____!"
- Say something else about the object in the picture, like, "Yes! That's the lamb. The lamb is smelling the flowers."
- When you can, show the child a real example of things in the pictures.

If the child points to something else:

- Say, "That's the _____" and tell the child what it is.
- Then say, "Here's the _____" and point to the thing you wanted the child to notice.
- After a little while you share the book with the child, ask again, "Where's the _____?"

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS and PRODUCTION CREDITS

Thank you to the many administrators, staff, teachers, caregivers, and parents who helped create, develop, pilot and evaluate this project from 2004 - 2007

TESTIMONIALS

“I have been using the Nursery Rhyme Name Songs project for a year and a half now by distributing the songs within my own family and in my storytimes. It is easy to make copies of the songs and hand them out. Many people have been very excited to receive special name songs for their own children. The song sheet can be filled out, placed on the refrigerator, and become a spotlight in a child’s day. I have had mothers, grandmothers, and other caregivers come back and tell me that their children are singing their special name songs, learning to spell their names and loving it. My own daughter loves her special name song and can easily spell out her name at age 2.”

Sarah Boatman, Iberia Parish Library, New Iberia, LA

“This program is really a wonderful idea. Children learn through music, rhythm, and repetition. The songs are fun, familiar and easy to use!”

Kim Briscoe, Special Education PreK Teacher, Welsh Elementary, Welsh, LA

“The Name Songs are fun and easy to use and children are more likely to remember.”

Barbara Cart, Vernon Parish School Board Head Start, Vernon Parish

“I am celebrating the fact that all of my children are leaving my class with the ability to spell and write their name. The project enabled children and their parents to work on the letters of their name to a familiar tune and required no outside supplies other than paper and pencil and a voice. I will use this method every year from now on. The kindergarten teachers will love both of us!!!! Thank you for your help in this area.”

Cynthia Cater, Teacher, Brown Preschool, Webster Parish, Springhill LA

“The children loved learning to spell their names with their own special songs.”

Andrea Chatagnier, PreK Teacher, Iota Elementary, Iota, LA

“I have always found that singing helps children learn and recall words faster. I used this project with PreK English language learners. I knew it had worked when I heard a child singing his song on his own while playing.”

Betty Dupont, PreK Teacher, University Terrace Elementary, Baton Rouge, LA

“Children’s knowledge of the nursery rhyme tunes made learning easier. Also, the repetition of saying the letters as we pointed to them helped the students recognize their names in print quickly.”

Tonia S. Lemoine, Early Childhood Development Center, Mansura, LA

“The children really seem to enjoy the name songs, and they look forward to the week when their name is highlighted. Some of my very young students haven't necessarily learned how to spell their names yet, but they are at least focusing on letters and learning to recognize some letters. Other students (who already could spell their names) are learning how to spell classmates' names. So, the activity meets all levels of learners.”

Liegh Lissard, LA4 PreK Teacher, Truman Montessori, Lafayette, LA

“Using nursery rhymes to help children spell their names is a wonderful idea! These songs are easy and fun for children to learn. I enjoyed this activity as much as my students did.”

Coral Miller, Teacher, Fisher Early Childhood Development Center, Lafayette, LA

“Children learn through fun activities. These activities incorporated fun with singing which allowed children to sing throughout the day.”

Kimberly C. O'Brien, Teacher, Eunice Elementary, Eunice, LA

“The children recognize the tunes to the nursery rhymes and, therefore, have an easier time learning to spell their names with the tunes.”

LaBreeska Smith, LA4 Pre-K Teacher, Sabine Parish LA4 Head Start, Many, LA

“The children love the songs! I made copies of the song sheets for each child and gave them to parents during parent-teacher meetings so the parents could sing with the children at home. The parents were amazed at how easily the children learned to spell their names.”

Shirley J. Sneed, PreK Teacher, Natchitoches Central High, Natchitoches, LA

“What a great project! Can't wait to use it again year after year!”

Cheryl Soley, Golden Meadow Lower Elementary, Golden Meadow, LA

“Thanks for the wonderful teaching tool. Anne (another Pre-K teacher) and I are having a ball teaching the name songs to our students (and the students are learning!!!)

Christi Thibodeaux, Gethsemane Christian Academy, Lafayette, LA
